Strength Training
It has been shown that strength training is the most effective way to slow and possibly reverse the loss of muscle tissue, bone density, and strength that occurs as one ages. Strong muscles help utilize oxygen and nutrients from the blood. They help absorb blood sugar so the body stays sensitive to insulin, helping to prevent or control Type 2 Diabetes. Strong muscles promote weight control by increasing your metabolism. Balance, flexibility, and bone density are also improved by strengthening muscles. Arthritis pain is often reduced and self-confidence is improved. It is recommended that you participate in two to three session/week with at least one day in between to allow your muscles to recover. Classes are held at all senior activity centers. A class for men is available at the Garvey Senior Activity Center. There is a fee.
Tai Chi for Arthritis
Tai Chi for Arthritis consists of movements from the Sun style Tai Chi. This style is particularly effective for those with arthritis, and the movements have higher stances, which makes it easier to learn. Classes are available at all senior activity centers. No fee.

Richard Simmons is the video instructor for this group of regular exercisers. Come join the fun and improve your physical condition. Classes are held at the Garvey Senior Activity Center. No fee.
